

Welcome to Virtue Health Services

Virtue Health Services provide supported living and care in small, community homes. We equip individuals with the confidence and skills to develop an identity within their community, make their own decisions and live the best version of their life.

Our mission is to provide high-quality care, within a homely environment, enabling our guests to live enriched, meaningful and happy lives.

To us, good care is about allowing individuals to be themselves and have choices. Our bespoke services are built around the needs and choices of the individuals who call it home, with support needs developed in partnership with guests, carers and relatives, respecting their diverse needs, preferences and choices.

Caring for people with complex disabilities

Individuals, families and commissioners trust Virtue to provide high-quality supported living and care for people aged 18 and over with complex disabilities including:

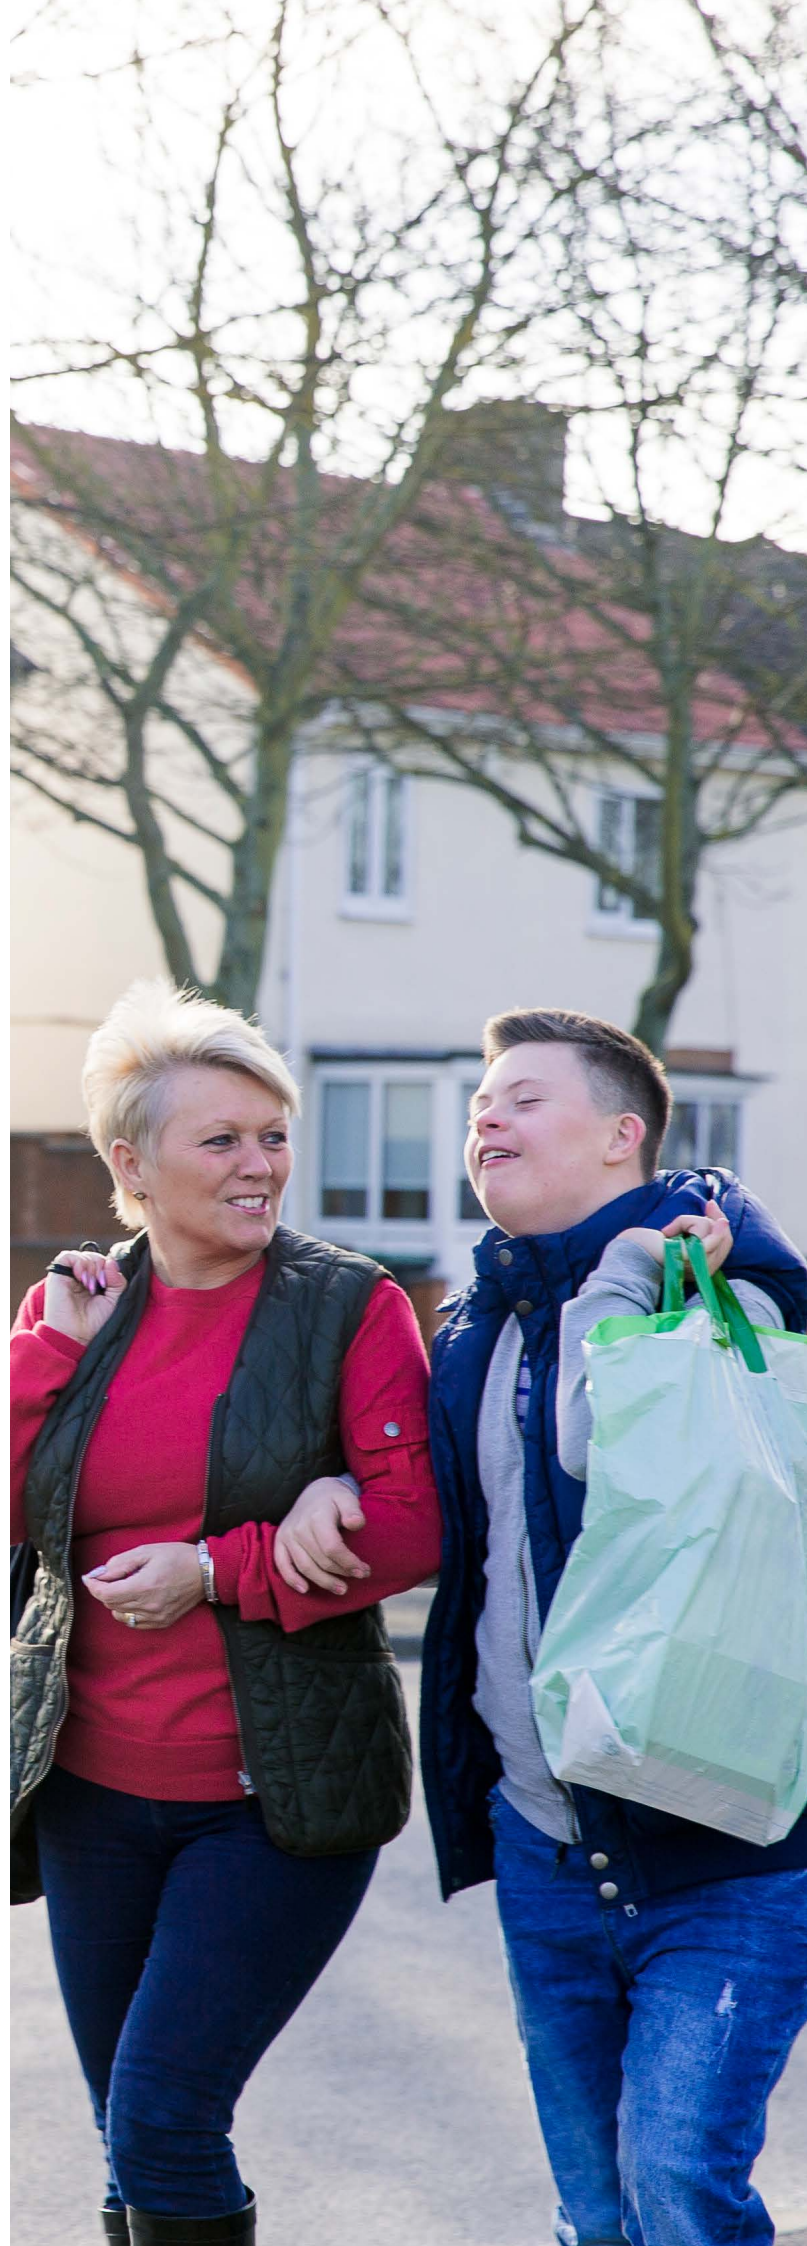

- Mental health conditions
- Dementia
- Physical disabilities including brain injury, stroke and cerebral palsy
- Learning disabilities and autism
- Complex needs and challenging behaviours

This includes all aspects of personal care, re-ablement and rehabilitation, waking night support, nursing and complex care and respite care. We can also develop sole-occupancy properties for people living with autism and challenging behaviours.

Our approach to care

Each Virtue Community Phase is made up of three, two-bedroom properties located close to each other, often on the same street. This proximity allows individuals and staff to develop social links, friendships and support networks between each other and within the wider community, combining independence and support which is flexible to suit each individual.

Each property has two comfortable, en-suite bedrooms, a communal lounge, a bright kitchen diner, a visitors and staff toilet and a well-maintained garden.

Virtue Community Pathways are the opposite of traditional, institutionalised care where people's lives are restricted around the needs of a big organisation. Virtue's modern, community homes support people to live a full and happy life within a support structure that restores their choice and independence.
